CHEROKEE FILM®

Cherokee Film operates as a fully functioning ecosystem, with four branches working together to support production, drive economic activity within the Cherokee Nation and reclaim Cherokee and Native narratives. By expanding representation both in front of and behind the camera, creating and owning space for accurate, authentic storytelling, and preparing Native and local talent for workforce success, Cherokee Film is building the future of film and media while innovating narrative sovereignty.

CHEROKEE FILM COMMISSION®

Cherokee Film Commission attracts film and media productions to the Cherokee Nation and connects filmmakers to assets within the reservation including its film-friendly communities, diverse locations, film studios and tribal incentive, as well as its sought-after databases representing Native talent, crew, consultants and support services.

CHEROKEE FILM PRODUCTIONS®

Cherokee Film Productions develops, produces, promotes and distributes a variety of original content in film and media that tells authentic Cherokee stories on behalf of our tribe, its people and its businesses.

CHEROKEE FILM STUDIOS®

Cherokee Film Studios provides superior practical and virtual production soundstages, production offices and support services in the Cherokee Nation reservation, for use by internal and external film and media clients.

CHEROKEE FILM INSTITUTE®

Cherokee Film Institute trains, develops and elevates Native American and local talent to work professionally in film and media, creating sustainable career opportunities within the Cherokee Nation and beyond.
